

Writer's World

Science Fiction, Metafiction, Thriller

Bestselling author Jack built his career on Turk Perry, a hard edged futuristic lawman who stalks the streets of a neon drenched, surveillance heavy Los Angeles. But after years of writing the same world, Jack is ready to kill Turk off for good and start a new chapter in his life.

Then the keyboard begins typing on its own.

Turk refuses to die and he's rewriting the story from the inside. The manuscript mutates into a living document as Turk reaches through the digital boundary and drags Jack into the very world he created. Suddenly Jack is trapped in a brutal, hyper policed Los Angeles where justice is corrupt, allies are scarce, and Turk controls the narrative.

Worse, Turk begins killing off other characters in revenge for the years Jack dictated his life. As the lines between fiction and reality dissolve, Jack races through the dystopian city to protect Miranda, the last character he still loves and reclaim control of the story before Turk erases him entirely.

Writer's World is a mind bending science fiction thriller that blurs creation and creator, exploring what happens when a fictional character refuses to stay on the page and decides to rewrite reality instead.
